

Confidential –Diversity Monitoring Form

In accordance with good practice and governance, the Royal College of Radiologists has a policy to collect data about the cultural background or diversity of those enrolling with the College. This information can then be used to address any issues that relate to cultural background or diversity that arise from the delivery of services and the development of policies by the College.

To assist the College in discharging this duty, it would be greatly appreciated if you could complete the form and return it with your application. The data collected will be treated in the strictest confidence in accordance with the provisions of The Data Protection Act 1998 and the various codes of practice issued by the Commission for Equality and Human Rights. It will only be accessed by authorised individuals at the College and will not be disclosed to any other bodies or individuals. Statistics derived from this data will be used for monitoring purposes, may be published and may be passed to other bodies.
